THIRTY-NINTH YEAR NO. 28.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, JUNE 10, 1916

PRICE, $1.00 A YEAR

EVERYTHING READY FOR A BIG SUMMER SCHOOL.

The opening address of the summer school will be given in the college chapel at 9:30 a. m. next Monday, June 10, by the Rev. D. W. Loeck, pastor of the Reformed church of Xenia. As many citizens of the community as can do so should show their interest in the summer school by attending the opening exercises. A special musical program will be rendered.

As the time for the opening of the school approaches the interest increases. Many inquiries are being received from prospective students. A much larger attendance than last year is anticipated.

The scope of the work will be greatly enlarged. More courses will be offered in all departments. The provision made for both elementary and high school teachers is especially ample. An effort will be made to provide for the needs of all. Attractive courses will be offered by Miss Florence Clemens in gymnastics and handwork. The course in gymnastics will consist of running, calisthenic drills (for weak, infirm, bellies), games, etc. The work will be of such a nature as to help teachers in giving simple exercises in the school room. In handwork there will be given a course in cardboard construction, knife-work, clay modeling, weaving, raffia and reed work. Very low fees will be charged for this work.

The work in instrumental music and voice will be under the direction of Mrs. Jesse Russell. Choral and public school music will be taught by Prof. George F. Seigler.

No charge for tuition will be made of pupils of the public schools who attend the practice schools. Much valuable training can thus be gained which will fit them for doing more easily and successfully the work of the regular school during the winter. Children desiring to enroll in this department should present themselves at the college by 9 o'clock Monday morning.

Registration of all students will be at 8 a. m. Monday in College Hall. The President, Dean, and other officers and teachers of the college will be in attendance to assist pupils in choosing studies suitable to their needs.

The work of the summer session will continue six weeks.

INCREDIBLE RESULTS STARTLE CEDARVILLE.

There has never been anything here with the INCREDIBLE results of simple lavapack eye wash. One man's eyes were so badly strained he could not read five minutes without pain. Two applications with lavapack relieved him. A lady had tried three different eye washes without success. ONE lavapack wash surprised her. We guarantee a small bottle to benefit EVERY CASE weak, strained or inflamed eyes. ONE WASH produces incredible results. A. B. Ward, druggist. (No. 2)

SCHOOL BOARD LETS CONTRACT FOR SEATS.

The board of education met Monday at which time representatives of some half dozen companies manufacturing school furniture were present with their samples.

The board is inspecting the seats in the old building that have been doing service for years will be revarnished and 225 used for the lower grades in the new building. Complete new equipment will be used in the high school. Seventy-five revolving chair seats, adjustable, with modern desks in oak finish were purchased at $4.10 each. The same kind of seats of iron, cost $1.05 and will be of oak. Both contracts were let to the Theodore Kundtz Company, of Cleveland.

CREAMER LAW SUIT.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is defendant in a $50,000 damage suit, due to the death of L. F. Creamer, who was killed some months ago at a railroad crossing near the town. At that time H. H. Hawkins was also an occupant of the auto and met like death. In a similar suit a large judgment was rendered against the company.

STREET PAVING BONDS BRING IN PREMIUMS.

Council awarded the Main street paving bonds amounting to $9,000 to Clinton & Wolcott, Cleveland at the Wednesday meeting. The company offered par, accrued interest and a premium of $385.90. The bonds are to be dated June 1, 1916, and are 5 1/2 per cent. The premium is one of the largest ever received in the county for anything like this amount of issue.

The premium is not far from that received from the school house bonds which amounted to $6,000. Jamestown just recently sold $25,000 paving bonds and received $1,202 premium.

The notice of the sale attracted thirteen bidders and Clerk Johnson had about thirty inquiries as to the sale. The fact that the village has no indebtedness, has never defaulted on the payment of bonds or interest and that the procedure of council was strictly in compliance with the law had much to do with bringing a good premium.

The abstracts now being prepared by Solicitor Harry Smith will be presented to the successful bidders for examination. The bonds should be delivered in ten days after the acceptance. The paving contract will probably be let Monday night.

The following were the bidders on the bonds: Tilgott & Wolcott, Cleveland, $585.90; Banchett Bond & Co., $375.00; F. C. Kohler, Toledo, $294.30; A. E. Sub & Co., Cincinnati, $250; Well, Rich & Co., Cincinnati, $207; Columbus Trust Co., Toledo, $203.80; Reed, Elliott & Harrison, Cincinnati, $22.80; Davies, Bortman & Co., Cincinnati, $407; W. L. Leavitt & Co., $283.10; First National Bank, Columbus, $265; Ohio National Bank, Columbus, $360; Stacy & Braun, Toledo, $327.68.

The village's share of the cost of the paving improvement was estimated at about $800. The premium of $585.90 will go a long way towards paying this cost. Council should be congratulated in saving the improvement at so opportune time as to enable the village to benefit by a strong money market.

ALUMNI BANQUET.

About 100 guests attended the annual banquet of the alumni of Cedarville College held Thursday evening at the library. The decorations for the reception room were roses and lilies while the dining room was decorated with orange and lemon were used. The seniors were seated in the center of the room and the other guests about the tables.

A four course banquet was served and the following were present:

Chicken Loaf Current Toast
Dinner Roll Applesauce
Carried Rice with Giblets
Fillet of Sole
Butter
Cheese
Wafers
Radishes
Peach Imperial Cake
Coffee
French Mints

In the absence of President Ralph Hoffmeister, of Pittsburgh, Roy Conifer, first vice president, presided as toastmaster at the post-prandial program. Mr. Conifer welcomed the class of 1916 into the Alumni Association, and David C. Bradfute responded in the name of the class. Other toasts were given by Attorney Kenneth Williamson of Xenia, Prof. Fred Bird, Rev. William R. Graham of Rockville, Ind., and Dr. David McKinney of Cincinnati.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

Frank Trumbull
ON UNIFICATION OF RAILROAD JURISDICTION.

There is no more perplexing problem in government today than the proper regulation of railroads, and no one more capable of discussing the subject than those who finance and manage railroad properties, for experience is the handmaid of understanding and practical wisdom the stepping stone to success.

Frank Trumbull, Chairman of the Railroad Executive Advisory Committee on Federal Relations, when asked for his views on the effect of regulation upon railroad investments, said in part:

"The desirability of regulation is, of course, admitted. Whether the regulation of railroads have had a success is a fair subject for discussion. One thing is certain—there is at present practically no appetite for fresh investment in railroads; that is for new construction or large improvements.

"Now that an efficient banking system has been established by the Federal government, a solution of the railway problem, fair alike to investors and to the rest of the public, is first in importance among our national domestic questions. The interdependence of railway owners and employees and of the shipping and traveling public has been demonstrated so often that I do not attempt here to prove it over again.

"Are railroad managers entirely to blame? Suppose you are attempting to administer a railroad in an honest and straightforward way. Most railroads are so managed; there have been some exceptions, just as there have been wicked bankers, farmers who put their best apples in the top of the barrel, and other people who have made sharp honest trades. But in either of the cases mentioned, does anyone expect the State to penalize the banking business as a whole or the apple business or the raising of horses?

"The situation is much as if you had built a hotel in some good sized town, say, twenty or thirty years ago. Probably very few, if any, of the bedrooms were provided with bathrooms. Perhaps the furniture consisted of a bed, a bureau, a washstand and two or three chairs. Suppose that after investing your money in that way the State passed a law stipulating that the price per room should not be over two dollars per day. Suppose after that the State passed other laws requiring a certain number of bath rooms, additional furnishings, fire escapes, screens on all the windows, sanitary appliances, etc. Perhaps these requirements are reasonable and in the public interest, but where would you get the money for new and better hotels under such restrictions of profits? I have said that the situation of the railroads is much like that, but the hotel investment is simplicity itself as compared with investing in a railroad."

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce the name of Prof. Ralph Wade, of Yellow Springs Public Schools, as candidate for Clerk of Court before the August primary.

Readers will find in our announcement column the name of Harvey Elam, who is a candidate for clerk of court before the primary. Mr. Elam has been township clerk in Xenia township for several years, has proved a competent and painstaking official and offers his candidacy to the electorate for consideration. He has quite a wide acquaintance about Xenia and the western part of the county but promises a campaign that will permit an acquaintance with every voter.

Dr. P. C. Marquart of Osborn is announced as a candidate for county treasurer. The Dr. for several years has served as coroner, an office that has some title but from which there is but little in the way of emoluments. The Dr. was formerly a resident of Yellow Springs and is known to a large number of people over the county. Of recent years he has been active in the practice of his profession in Osborn but now thinks he would like to handle the county cash and if elected he will prove a good official for the county.

Prof. Ralph Wade of the Yellow Springs schools, who is credited with having a world of determination, if he has not the stature of a Jesse Willard, is in the ring for county clerk of court. As a new official his ability no one who knows him would question. Mr. Wade styles himself the independent candidate, not backed by any faction and if elected would have to pay allegiance to any organization. The Professor comes from one of the largest Republican townships in the county and no doubt will start the race with a good lead.

Mrs. S. T. Baker attended the O. W. U. commencement at Delaware this week. The 25th anniversary of her class was also celebrated with a banquet of 60.

Mr. W. H. Dye and wife, of Dayton, Ohio, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Baker.

Squeezing Blood Out of a Turnip.

A Lot of People Apparently Think it Can Be Done.

"You can't squeeze blood out of a turnip." This is absolutely true, but a lot of people evidently don't believe it.

You can't expect nervous, run down men and women to be cheery, normal beings. They don't get one-half out of life that they deserve. But a lot of people expect it of them.

In every community there are a legion of these men and women. Not really sick, perhaps, but affected with a nervous, debilitated condition so that they imagine countless things are wrong with them. They have frequent headaches, are sluggish in mind and in body and they haven't enough real energy to make them self-reliant in even the little things of life. They haven't enough rich, red blood to nourish their bodies.

Their vital organs are congested. They need something to speed up their assimilation to a normal state, something to bring back old vitality, self-reliance and a cheery view of life.

They need something that contains the right nerve food, tonic, invigorator and appetizer which will awake their sleeping energies.

Tanlac is designed especially to meet these conditions. For the relief of stomach, kidney and liver ailments and catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes it is believed to be without an equal. It facilitates one to better encounter fatigue, exposure and the daily grind of life.

Tanlac has won the greatest success ever scored by a medicine. It could not have done so without superlative merit. As the proof of the pudding is in the eating, so is the proof of Tanlac in the taking.

Tanlac may be obtained in Yellow Springs at the Finley Drug Store; South Charleston, Claude W. Deem; Jamestown, W. F. Harper; X-Sayer, Lucie & Ham phil.

IS EXTREME OF DESOLATION

Asked what eight represented to his mind the extreme of desolation, the renting agent said:

"An unfinished card game, with the cards lying just where the players left them. This morning I came across an interrupted game of hearts in a furnished flat that was vacated suddenly. The tenants simply packed their clothes and moved out without a word of explanation to anybody, and as they didn't owe me a cent it wasn't my place to run them down."

"They had been playing on the dining room table, and the game was about half finished. Four hands of cards thrown down when the game was anybody's that knew how to turn a trick worked on the imagination. Why did they stop playing in such a hurry? Why didn't they stay to finish the game, or if they couldn't do that, why didn't they scrape the cards together and take them along? Interesting questions, those, and I'd like to have them answered."

She had been ill since last March when pneumonia developed, followed by a malignant nature developed from which she never recovered. The deceased was born in Fayetteville, Tenn., and was the daughter of James and Jean Wiley Blair. The parents traveled overland to Illinois where they were one of the early settlers about Sparta. It was here that she received her training and taught school for some time previous to her marriage to Dr. James F. Morton, which took place fifty-three years ago.

Mrs. Morton had received a call to the R. P. church of this place and brought his youthful bride to what has ever since been her home. The Dr. was for more than forty years pastor of this congregation, his death occurring in 1903.

Mrs. Morton during her lifetime was a woman noted for her good deeds, her devotion for her family and one endowed with Christian charity that enable her to be an able worker with her husband in behalf of the Master's Kingdom. Her presence these long years in the church and its various organizations will be greatly missed.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By W. O. BELLER, Acting Director of the Sunday School Course in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

LESSON FOR JUNE 19.

THE PHILIPPIN JAILER.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16:16-40. GOLDEN TEXT—Believe on the Lord Jesus and thou shalt be saved, thou and thy house.—Acts 16:31.

Dean Vaughn has said of this lesson that in it "we have an epitome of the whole history of the gospel." The time was A. D. 50 or 52 and the place was Philippi, an important city, as before suggested.

The Damsel Delivered of Demons (vv. 16-18). On their way to the praying place where they had met Lydia, the disciples met this maid who "had a spirit, a Python." Greek soothsayers were supposed to be inspired by Apollo, who killed a great snake at Mt. Parnassus and left it to rot. The girl was probably possessed of hysteria and thus spoke strange words, and her condition brought much profit to her masters, who professed to interpret her words. This evidence of evil possession awoke a sympathetic response in Paul's heart. "Her misery and degradation were a symbol of the degradation, as Lydia's sweet and beautiful Christian character was of the transfiguration of womanhood."

Stalker. Her cry after Paul was perhaps that they were the slaves of some god, even as she was the slave of Apollo. The Gadarene (Luke 8:28) used similar language. Paul did not at once stop her (v. 8), perhaps to avoid a controversy, but his deliberation made more profound the final deliverance wrought. Worn out at last with her cries, but taking no credit himself, Paul spoke the name of Power which had foretold just such acts (Mk. 16:17; Lk. 9:1; Lk. 10:17).

II. The Disciples in Prison (vv. 19-24). On a further commercial value, the slave drivers sought revenge by inciting a mob to attack Paul and his companions. So today the liquor interests would seek remuneration for the loss of their "business" and anathematize their opponents, while the underworld tries to overthrow all who seek to restrain them. Paul and Silas were accused of "troubling" the city, for the trade has been interfered with. It, indeed, went hard with them thus to be unjustly set upon and finally, through the connivance of the sphenoid authorities, to be incarcerated in a filthy dungeon. Still, though the majority was against them, yet the most noble Christian character was of the transfiguration of womanhood."

III. Deliverance and Salvation (vv. 25-35). Christ before Pilate was accused of sedition, and these flogged disciples were likewise innocent sufferers. (1) Prayer. (2) Singing. (3) Note the circumstances—darkness, torn and bleeding,aching backs and a morrow filled with blackness. There was no sleep for the disciples at that midnight hour, but often strength is better gained in prayer than sleep. "Praying, they sang hymns,"—in the midst of that heterogeneous lot of prisoners they did not could not keep silent. The result was attentive listening by the other prisoners and by a loving Heavenly Father, who shook the place to evidence his interest (v. 26). (2) The jailer delivered. The place was so shaken that every barred door was opened and the staples of the stocks were so loosened as to liberate every prisoner. (3) The jailer saved. The brutal one is now the anxious inquirer, and becomes a good type for all to follow who are out of Christ. (a) He saw he was lost. He was subject to the same death as his escaped prisoners. "Supposing" (v. 27) has darkened many lives, and our greatest sorrows are often imagined. Face to face with death, the jailer would plunge into an eternity for which he was not prepared. Paul's clarion call brought the jailer to express his anxiety (v. 29), and it was not a trifling nor skeptically indifferent man who appealed to Paul. He was brought face to face with two holy men, with God and with eternity.

Those to whom he came know the facts, had faith, and could meet the emergencies of life with confidence. IV. The Humbled Magistrates (vv. 35-40). The jailer evidences joy, hospitality and a changed home, which news must have reached the magistrates. Their early command was to "beat the fellow dead." Paul here rises to his full dignity. Beaten openly, condemned without trial and verdict, does not allow them to cover their crime and blunder by stealth. The magistrates were liable to loss of position, goods, and even life, and hence willingly did all that Paul required.

Thus the imprisonment turned out to the honor of the apostle and the glory of God. Not did Paul hasten at all in leaving the city. After recovering strength to travel and encouraging the members of the infant church they departed, taking Timothy (17:14) with them.

Thus God gloriously delivered those who were amidst sore trials, and there was established in Philippi a church which was dear to Paul and which was especially kind to Paul, and to which is directed one of his most tender epistles.
